Correspondence With Aguinaldo, Show ing That He Tried to Preserve Peace, While Natives Were Almost Continually Aggressive.

Washington, June 1.—The secretary eral Otis, mailed from Manila, transmitting the reports of his subordinate officers on the operations around Manila up to April 6. General Otis begins with this statement:

"These military operations are fairly little to add thereto, but desire particu- can soldiers and a newspaper correspondvelopment of conditions and circum- eral Otis' letter added; stances which resulted finally in war. This I deem to be essential in order to correct the somewhat prevaiting impresion that the government of the United wrongful action for the present existing reliable, strictly pure, safe for medi-cinal as well as for social uses. hostilities." General Otis told of the landing of Aguinaldo from an American vessel and of the insurgents taking advantage of the active hostilities between the United States and Spain to capture southern points and increase their strength. Independence, General Otis aid, was proclaimed by Aguinaldo in August, and as early as June, he had warned the United States authorities against the landing of its military forces on Philippine soil without first obtaining his consent, because, as he expressed it, "the Philippine people might consider the occupation of Philippine territory by North American troops a violation of their rights." To this end he gave a short summary of the Philippine insurrection against Spain, laying stress on the fact that a small band of the natives of Luzon, leaders of the rebellion of '96 against Spain, were induced for monetary consideration to leave the island. men returned to the vicinity of Manila after the destruction of the Spanish fleet there, being, as General Otis says, the capture by Filipinos of two officers

General Otis described Aguinaldo's efforts to strengthen his lines in preparation for hostilities with the United States during this time, and explained the growth of the insurgent independent movement by stating that in the absence of Spanish authority many able and conservative Filipinos gave adherence to this seemingly de facto-government. Many of these withdrew their adherence when the radical element declared its hostility to the United States. tates.

Describing briefly the tension that existed at the time, General Otis included in explanation of his course some highly important correspondence that passed between himself and Aguinaldo.

Early in January, when General Otis was asked by conservative Filipinos to appoint a committee of army officers to meet an insurgent committee and ef fect a compromise by which peace might be obtained, General Otis refused to recognize an insurgent government, but was willing to negotiate with Agui naldo or a commission appointed by

Aguinaldo's response and General Otis' reply were set out in the following extract from the report:
"MALOLOS, Jan. 9.

Major General E. S. Otis, General of the American Forces of Occupation in Manila: after the interview between the com missioners of my government and Mr Carman, that there will be no inconvenience on your part, in naming, a commanding general, representatives that will confer with those whom I will name for the same object.

"Although it not being explained to me the reason why you could not treat with the commissioners of my government, I have the faculty of doing the same with those of the commanding general 'who cannot be recognized.'.
Nevertheless for the sake of peace I have considered it advisable to name as 'commanding general' a commission composed of the following gentlemen: Florentine Flores, Ambrosia Flores and Manuel Arguieles, that they may together represent me and arrive at an accord, with those who you may name, with the object of using such methods as will normalize the actual situation created by the attitude of your government and troops.

"If you will deign to attend to said commissioners and through these meth-ods come to some understanding, 'if only temporary,' that will insure the peace and harmony amongst ourselves. the Filipino public would reach a grateful glory.

"I am yours, general, with the high-...1:55 and est consideration, your most respectful servant. EMILIO AGUINALDO."

General Otis' reply was dated Jan. 9, and was in part as follows: "In my official capacity I am merely the agent of the United States government, to conduct its affairs under the limits of its constitution and laws and cannot recognize any national or civil power not already formally recognized by my government, unless especially authorized to do so by the instructions of the executive of the United States. For this reason I am unable to receive officially the representatives of the revolutionary government, and endeavored to make that inability clear to the distinguished gentlemen with whom I had

I am under the strict orders of the presi-dent of the United States to avoid conflict in every way possible. My troops, witnessing the earnestness, the com-paratively disturbed and unfriendly attitude of the revolutionary troops and many of the citizens of Manila, conclude that active hostilities have been determined upon, although it must be clearly within the comprehension of unprejudiced and reflecting minds that the welfare and happiness of the Philippine people depends upon the friendly protection of the United States. The hand of Spain was forced, and she has acknowledged before the world that all her claimed rights in this country have departed by due process of law. 'This treaty acknowledgement, with conditions which accompany awaits ratification by the senate of the Inited States and the action of its congress must also be secured before the executive of that government can proclaim a definite policy. That policy must conform to the will of the people of the United States, expressed thre its representatives in congress. For that action the Philippine people should wait, at least before severing the exist-ing friendly relations. I am governed by a desire to further the interests of the Philippine people, and shall continue to labor with that end in view. shall be no conflict of forces if I am able to avoid it; and still I shall endeavor to maintain a position to meet all emergencies that may arise.

General Otis says the negotiations between the two commissions reached no conclusions, as the insurgent members could not submit any formulated statement which they were able to maintain. They presented as the desire of the insurgents absolute independence under the protection of the United States, but of war made public the report of Gen- the nature and scope of the protection wished for they could not explain, and the conferences resulted in failure In the latter part of January the in-

Aguinaldo replied that the men were arrested inside of his lines for breach of a decree forbidding foreigners to ap-proach the insurgent lines. He released suffering from any catarrhal trouble cannot be wholly attractive. If the catarrh is in the head, nose, throat or stomach the breath declares it. If it is in the lungs it means consumption. Troubles of the pelvic organs are in almost every case catarrh. Every phase of catarrh is unclean; many of them are disgusting. Catarrh has many names but its character is the same; wherever it is there is inflammation. To cure catarrh the remedy must be scientific and thorough. Such a remedy is Pe-ru-na, which for forty years has been successfully combating this insidious disease. Read what Mrs. Benolt says about it:

Practical statements to women about catarrh.

Pe-ru-na Medicine Company, Columbus, O. DEAR SIRS:—I have been sick since last fall. The doctors said I had catarrh, I employed three physicians but they did not help me at all. I finally gave up doctors and began to take medicines I saw advertised, but I continued to grow worse. I was so miserable I wished I was dead. Life had no pleasures for me. At last I saw Pe-ru-na advertised and got a bottle. Half a bottle helped me, and after I had taken four bottles I was well. I have gained in weight and feel years younger .- Mrs. Benolt, 131 Pleasant St., Cincinnati, O. Dr. Hartman will prescribe for fifty thousand women this year free of charge. All women suffering from female troubles or any disease of the mucous mem brane may have Dr. Hartman's private counsel without cost. Send for special question blank for women

Mrs. J. Koeiler. Rockford. Ill., says:—"I have been troubled with chronic catarrh several years. I tried almost everything, and employed several prominent physicians, but to no avail. I saw an advertisement of your medicine and gave it a trial. I have found Pe-ru-na a great help. I can heartily recommend t to all saffering from that dread disease."

The uncleanness of catarch makes the disease abhorrent to a careful woman Catarrh will not go away itself. Its existence must be made impossible. This is what Pe-ra-na does. It makes the membranes healthy all through the organs of the body and catarrh ceases to exist. All druggists sell Pa-ru-na.

A conference between Hant a and the Foraker-Kurtz-McKisson faction commenced about midnight behind closed doors. Very little of the pioceedings leaked out, but it was rumored Kurtz was holding out in favor of making a It has been customary for candidates for governor to call on the governor, but Governor Bushnell called, with mem-bers of his staff, on the headquarters of all the candidates for governor. On the same floor and adjoining the "row of gubernatorial headquarters" were the cooms of Senator Hanna, crowded with visitors. There was an effort to usher Governor Bushnell into the rooms of Senator Hanna, in the interest of harmony, as some of the delegates said, but Governor Bushnell declined Governor Bushnell afterward stated that he had come over to the Neal House to call on the candidates for nomination as his successor and to pledge all of them that he would heartly support the nominee, whomsoever te might be, that Senator Hanna was not a candidate and therefore he did not call on him.

Later Governor Bushnell called on Senator Foraker. Senator Foraker went to the Neal House and called on Senator Hanna and the candidates. The greeting between the two senators was exceptionally cordial. The Foraker party then visited the rooms of the candidates. After greetings Foraker and Hanna as well as the other leaders, were in secret conference. It was reported that Foraker had joined Kurtz, Cox, McKisson and others of the opposition to Nash in a combine to nominate Lieutenant Governor A. W. Jones for governor.

stract of the report of the Nicaraguan Canal commission, as presented by Admiral Walker, the head of the commismiral Walker, the head of the commi sion. This synopsis said in part:

The commission has adopted and estimated for the route from Brito to Lake Nicaragua, called the Childs route, and ern divide to the valley of the Lajas, which it follows to Lake Nicaragua. Crossing the lake to the San Juan river, t follows the upper river to near Boca San Carlos, thence, in excavation, by the left bank of the river to the San Juanillo and across the low country to Greytown, passing to the northward of Lake Silico. It requires but a single ends of the summit level. The surveys have in general revealed better physical conditions than were hitherto Lt is a handsome volume of about supposed to exist, espeaially as to the amount of rock in the upper river, its vast resources, beautifully illuswhereby it is possible to greatly reduce trated, and regarded by critics as the the estimated cost of construction.

Informations Made Against Alleged Legislative Bribers at Harrisburg. HARRISBURG, June 1.-The house

John J. Coyle of Schuylkill, two against Representative Charles B. Spatz of Berks, one each against ex-Representative Thomas M. Moyles of Wilkesbarre, ex-Congressman Monroe H. Kulp of Northumberland, ex-Representative John R. Byrne of Fayette and Frank B. Jones of Philadelphia. Additional informations were also made against ex-Senator Coyle and Michael J. Cos-tello of Philadelphia for conspiracy to bribe. Information will also be made against Mr. Costello at Williamsport for corrupt solicitation, and a similar charge will be brought at Easton against Parker H. Titus of Bangor. All of the accused except Mr. Spatz were alleged to have made offers of money for votes for ex-Senator Quay or the McCarrell bill. The Berks members were accused of having corruptly selicited certain Demo cratic legislators to sign a paper pledging their support all through torial contest to George A. Jenks, the Democratic caucus candidate. The charges of perjury were based on the testimony given by the accused before the investigating committee, all of whom were heard except Mr. Evans. Warrants were issued for the arrest of Messrs, Coyle, Spaatz, Costello, Moyles, Evans, Jones, Evrnes and Kulp and they will be brought to Harrisburg for a hearing.

President Tarvin then introduced Hon, D. S. Oliver of Cincinnati, who presented ex-Governor John P. Altgeld of Illinois. The greatest enthusiasm prevailed when the Illinois statesman arose to address the convention, the delegates rising to their feet waving hats and cheering lustily.

While Governor Altgelt was in the midst of his discourse Mr. Bryan reached the theater. He was admitted to the stage by a rear entrance and took a seat in the wings, where he awaited the conclusion of Mr. Altgeld's speech.
